The Senate was called to order at 3 P

Mr. Pearson said, it was impossible for him to understand the returns from the eighth Senatorial district, composed of Huntingon, Mifflin, Juniata, Perry and Union counties, and he moved that the persons returned be not allowed to take their seats—(being four in number, the law only calling for two)-till the other Senators elect were duly sworn in, and that they be postponed till that time, The mo-

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1838.

The Legislature.-Both Houses of our Legisature, agreed to adjourn on the 19th inst.

Appointment by the Governor .- Beaufort T. Watts, Esq. to be Executive Secretary.

Dr. Finley, the Representative from Charleson, whose seat in the Legislature, was vacated in consequence of his holding a disqualifying of ice, is re-elected.

The following named Gentlemen, have been admitted to practice in the Courts of Law, and Equity of this State:

Law.-W. J. Clawson, J. P. Cole, E. P. Ervin, S. J. Ervin, F. W. Fickling, C. K. Johnson, of Edgefield, E. C. Lightner, S. B. Massey, J. J. McMullan, J. H. Postell, J. H. Pearson, J. D. Wright.

Mr. Andrew MacLauchlin, has been elected Cashier of the Commercial Bank, at Columbia.

Georgia .- A fice Banking law, very much like that of New York, has passed the House of Representatives of Georgia, by a small majority. It will probably pass the Senate also.

Mr. Cuthbert, of Georgia, has not resigned his seat in the United States Senate, as was reported.

The Hon. Thomas H. Benton has been reelected to the United States Senate from Missouri, for six years from the 4th of March next.

It will be seen that the President is firm in advocating the Independent Treasury plan. He uses strong arguments against a National Bank. or a connexion of the Government with State Banks. He disclaims all hostility to State banks. but recommends to the government, to form no union with them, and to use them only, as the public policy and general interest of the country may require. This is but just and reasonable None but the most prejudiced advocates of the banks, can say that this is waging war against those institutions. Mr. Van Buren truly says, "that the only safe or proper principle upon which their intercourse with the government can be regulated, is that which regulates their intercourse with the private citizen-the conferring of mutual benefits." If the banks wish for any more than this, it is but to increase, to a the purchase of Dr. Cooper's Library to the large extent, their own profits. We publish, this week, that portion of the Message which is of most interest to our renders. We will give them, the conclusion in our next paper.

> Another Turnip .- 'The Office of the Augusta Constitutionalist appear to be a depository of mammoth Turnips. We wish our planters would procure the seed. Here is the Editor's description of a huge turnip:

"About a week ago we noticed the reception of a turnip, weighing 7 lbs. 8 oz.

—but it was a small affair to one we now have in the office, a sort of Siamese concern, having one root and two tops, and weighing eleven pounds. We did not measure it, as it is of such an outlandish shape, it would be difficult to run a string, members from Philadelphia county, were ble more than a big turnip!

About 6 o'clock in the afternoon of the 27th, the Mexican commander in the Castle, hung out a signal for the cessation of hostilities, and begged leave to be allowed ime to withdraw his wounded from the ruius of the fortication. Admiral Baudin replied that he could consent to no truce, out would allow the Mexicans to retire from the fort if they capitulated. To this the Mexican General agreed, and withdrew his troops from the Castle, which was immediately occupied by the French soldiers and marines. The Mexican army, near Vera Cruz, was about 5,000 strong, but their officers did not consider themselves able to hold the town, commanded as it was by the guns of the Castle, until the French Admiral consented that one thousand of the Mexican troops should remain in the city to preserve order.

It was believed that negociations had een commenced between the Mexican Government and the French Admiral, for the re-establishment of peace, but some time may elapse before the result is known The French Admiral it was thought, would no longer hinder the vessels of all nations from trading to Vera Cruz. We have here given all the particulars which have reached us. Of the ulterior designs of either the French or Mexicans, we are ignorant. Time alone can tell, whether the Mexicans, dispirited by this, their first trial of strength, with the French, will consent to patch up a peace and pay the money demanded of them; or whether the war will be prolonged, and lead to further conquest by the arms of Louis

In turnishing an obituary notice of Mrs. Mathews, it cannot be considered unappropriate to give a summary of her general character. Her affable, conciliating, kind, and unaffected deportment towards her neighbors friends, relatives and children, rivited an attach ment in return, which will most affectionately be cherished in their memory; and her conduct in life exhibited an example worthy of imtation to them, and her surviving children. Indeed, it may in truth be said, that she performed all the domestic, social and maternal duties devolving upon her, in an exemplary manner. She united herself to the Baptist Church in the year 1790, since which time, she continued an orderly and pious member. The precepts f the Redeemer appeared to be the to which she conformed, and His promises were sheet anchor and solace to her, in every vicis situde, and domestic affliction. Her piety was destitute of "guile, ' and was of an active, fervent, devotional ca-t. The calm serenity of her brow, when death had made her his victim, indicated the mental resignation, and buoyant hope which cheered her reflections in the last mo ment of her earthly career, when she was about to depart, and appear in the presence of her Savior. She, indeed, had seen Him "through a glass darkly," and had made the necessary prearation to see Him in peace "face to fa e Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word; for mine eyes
